

Nokubonga Dladla

ICT Graduate

bongoehn@gmail.com
076 432 0923

Summary

Motivated and tech-savvy ICT graduate with hands-on experience in full-stack web development, networking, and technical support. Skilled in Python (Flask), Java, and database management, with a strong interest in cybersecurity and cloud technologies. Passionate about solving problems, supporting end-users, and contributing to innovative IT projects. Eager to learn and grow within a professional IT environment while adding value through teamwork, reliability, and technical excellence

Work Experience

Freelance Web Developer

Self-Employed

Providing website development for small businesses to enhance their online presence.

- Developed responsive websites using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript for various clients.
- Assisted clients with hosting setup and ongoing maintenance for optimal performance.
- Provided technical support and implemented improvements to enhance user experience.

Education

Diploma in Information and Communications

Technology, Business Analysis

Durban University of Technology

2024

- Specialized in Business Analysis
- Developed web application project

Certifications and Volunteer Work

Certificate in Full Stack Web Development
Hackathon Participant at Local Event

Skills

- Python and Java programming
- Frontend development with HTML and CSS
- Database management and design
- Technical support and troubleshooting